

International Symposium

Codicology of Hanzi Scripts -As the middle point report-

Dates: March 11 (Mon.) – 13 (Wed.), 2013

Venue: Hokko (North Hall,北響) room 204, Omiya Campus, Ryukoku University

Organized by Hokkaido University and Digital Archives Research Center, Ryukoku University

11th March 2013

13:00 – 17:30 Opening

Chairperson: Toyoshima Masayuki

“On the Stein collection”

Frances Wood, The British Library

“On the Pelliot collection”

Nathalie Monnet, Bibliothèque nationale de France

“The Jingo-Keiun 2 Imperial Prayer Scrolls of the Shōgozō repository and the Shōsōin documents”

Iida Takehiko, Office of the Shōsōin treasure house

“On the National Palace Museum's Collection of Rare and Antiquarian Books and Its Digital Preservation”

Sung Chao-ling, National Palace Museum

18:00 – 20:00 Welcome Reception

Chairperson: Ishizuka Harumichi

12th March 2013

9:00 – 12:00 “On the paper of Dunhuang manuscripts”

Sakamoto Shoji, Ryukoku University

Keynote speech “Codicology of Hanzi Scripts”

Ishizuka Harumichi, Hokkaido University

12:00 – 14:00 Lunch

14:00 – 17:00 “On the propagation of the Buddhist canon in Japan”

Ochiai Toshinori, International College for Postgraduate Buddhist Studies

Demonstration “Scientific analysis of old paper”

Ryukoku University group

18:00 – 20:00 Welcome Party (only guests)

13th March 2013

9:00 – 12:00 “Codicology and Palaeography: IDP Initiatives and Collaborations”

Susan Whitfield, International Dunhuang Project

“On the Chinese classics of the Dunhuang manuscripts”

Kosukegawa Teiji, Toyama University

12:00 – 14:00 Lunch

14:00 – 16:00 Ryukoku Museum

Chairperson: Okada Yoshihiro

Closing

Language: English mainly

Symposium Committee

Ishizuka Harumichi Professor Emeritus, Hokkaido University
(President)

Okada Yoshihiro Professor, Ryukoku University
(Director)

Toyoshima Masayuki Professor, Tokyo University of Foreign Studies, Research
(Chairperson) Institute for Languages and Cultures of Asia and Africa

